THE FINISHING TOUCH OF DISTINCTION

DECOR CATALOG 2026

The image features three distinct glass vessels in a warm, amber or honey color. On the left, a tall, slender vase with a bulbous middle section holds a branch of citrus fruit with green leaves and small yellow blossoms. To its right is a smaller, more rounded vessel with a similar shape. In the foreground, a third vessel lies horizontally, showcasing a long, flowing, organic form. All three vessels are placed on a light-colored, polished marble surface that reflects their forms. The background is a textured, off-white wall, and the lighting creates soft shadows of the plants and vessels on the wall and floor.

A tall, tiered stone candleholder stands on the left, featuring a conical base and four stacked cylindrical sections. To its right, three smaller, rounded stone candleholders are arranged in a row. They are all made of a light-colored, porous stone with a natural, weathered texture. The objects are set against a white, textured wall and rest on a white surface. A small, dark, dried plant is visible in the foreground near the base of the smaller candleholders.

The image features two rectangular concrete bookends on a white surface. The bookend on the left is a solid, light-colored concrete block with a porous, pitted texture. The bookend on the right is also made of the same material but has a stepped, staircase-like edge on its right side. The text "STYLING - BOOKENDS" is centered in white, sans-serif capital letters over the space between the two objects. The background is a soft, out-of-focus gradient of light colors.
